THE LIVER INVIGORATOR.
Prepared by Dr. J. C. FARRINGTON,
Compounded entirely from GUMS,
ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVES AND LIVER MED-ICINES now before the public, that relieves a variety of ailments, and cures almost all the liver troubles of man. It is not only a cathartic, but a liver invigorant acting on the Liver to expel its morbid matter, thus on the stomach and intestines, and on the gall bladder, thus stimulating its purgative efficiency without any of the painful effects experienced in the operation of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time, and thus accomplishes its purpose with less danger, and builds it up with unusual rapidity.

The liver is one of the principal organs of the human system, and the power of the system depends, entirely upon it.

The principal functions of the liver are to purify the blood, and to secrete the bile, which is used in the formation of the gall stones,
and in the formation of the gall bladder.

GREAT WONDER

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Then the Datto made no comment nor raised puffery to the press.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co., Boston, Mass., Jan. 26, 1926.

Gentlemen: Having my attention called to the many instances to the highly beneficial effects of your Hair Restorative, I was inclined to make application of it to my own hair, which had become quite gray, falling out, and my whiskers were of same character. Within three months I had acquired a host of hair restorative and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it steadily a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I am perfectly satisfied with the results. My hair is growing again, and I find that my beard, my eyebrows, and my hair, and hair has resumed its natural color, and believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old. My good wishes.

the age of fifty-one, I have been due to you for your valiant recovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly say, as I direct you will have occasion to succumb to my moments. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here the last fifty years, and now knowing that I am here and will continue to be here, I am sure you will make up your mind to be attached to me, as you are attached, in order to preserve the beauties of nature in others we will say as you say, I am, truly yours, future the debtor should pay in any of the aforementioned bills at their true and current value at the time of such payment. By this currency was settled at 6 shillings to the silver dollar, or 6 shillings per piece per ounce, troy weight. From that time the paper currency was no longer tender, except under the above restrictions, but passed for whatever public opinion deemed its value. This standard of 6 shillings to the dollar continued to be the legal standard in Rhode Island, as we believe, until the revolution, and is still among the dry goods dealers. This act we presume was made in compliance with an act of parliament, declaring that the colonial bill of credit should not, in future, be a legal tender.

The year for all purposes to commence on the first of January.

The year 1755 commenced by act of parliament on the first day of January, from which time the public records of the colony are so dated, before which they commenced the year the 25th of March.

Queen Street, or what is now called the parade, or middle paving in Washington Square, in front of the State House in Newport, extending down to the Main street was paved this year.

The town of Newport granted to some individuals, the privilege of erecting works for the smelting and refining of iron ore from the mountains of Great Island from

About this time a brig from the Bay Honduras loaded with mahogany, owned by Henry Collins, John Haxham-master, was seen with all sail set off Eastern Beach. It was observed that she seemed to be very carelessly navigated, and was likely to get ashore on the beach which caused great surprise to those who observed her; she finally ran on shore on the beach and no being to be seen on deck, several persons procured a boat and went aboard, where they found the breakfast table set and the tea-kettle on the fire; one dog and some very small cats were the only living creatures to be found on board. The brig's boat was missing, nor was any of the crew heard of after. Her cargo of logwood was landed on the beach and the vessel got off and brought into Newport. Her owner changed her name and called her the Beach Bird.

The light house on Beaver tail time, and the assembly voted to

Joseph Whipple, a merchant of New have heard old people say that the Ce

Joseph Whipple Esq., resigned his tion of Deputy Governor in the Committee, and Jonathan Nichols was immediately appointed to fill the place vacated.

Doctor McSparran, an English missionary of the Church, who lived and preached at North Kingstown, in a work published in Dublin this year, states the navigation of the colony at 300 sail of vessels from 60 tons upwards—as there are other facts as well as a good deal of error, and some ill will to the colony together, we shall give an extract of his work next week.
